

SDMPH

Society for Disaster Medicine and Public Health, Inc.
Achieving Global Health Security

The Society for Disaster Medicine and Public Health (SDMPH) will hold the 10 year Anniversary Conference and Annual Meeting December 4-6, 2023, at the American Geophysical Union (AGU) Conference Center in Washington, DC. This year's theme is "10 Years On: Building the Discipline of Disaster Medicine and Public Health."

The SDMPH would like to invite you to consider a sponsorship opportunity to exhibit and gain further exposure to the SDMPH community.

The conference sessions will examine the effects of disasters on vulnerable populations focusing on:

- Climate change and disaster response
- Conflict medicine and population health
- Artificial intelligence, decision aids and equipment, and their effect on mass casualty incident response
- Disaster medicine education, training, and competencies which are culturally and geographically relevant
- Mental health

Abstracts discussing the conference themes will be submitted for consideration for publication in the Disaster Medicine and Public Health Preparedness journal (DMPHP) following peer review. This provides young researchers and those from low-middle income countries an opportunity for their research to be exhibited and published in a leading disaster medicine journal.

There will be three opportunities for a first responder, hospital clinician, researcher, administrator, non-government organization (NGO) or government agency staffer to attend the conference in person, live virtual, or by viewing the recorded sessions. Attendance through one of these means is required for the abstract to be published. In addition, a conference Delphi study will be published in the DMPHP providing statements for researchers, NGOs and government agencies, academic educational centers, first response agencies and healthcare systems to build the discipline of disaster medicine and public health.

The nonprofit 501(c)3 SDMPH was founded in 2013 with a mission to advance and promote excellence in education, training, and research in disaster medicine and public health for all potential health system responders based on sound educational principles, scientific evidence, and best clinical and public health practices. Our request is for your help to support the conference and its mission of advancing the discipline of disaster medicine. Our total sponsorship goal is $30,000 which will help defray conference costs, offset the cost of attendees from low- and middle-income countries to attend the conference, the fees for virtual participation for those unable to attend in person or the opportunity to study the recorded sessions if the times of the virtual program are not feasible.

Thank you very much for taking the time to consider our request to collaborate. Our goal is to hold a conference where people gather not only to listen and interact with experts in their field, but also to share experiences to promote disaster risk reduction and advance disaster response education, training, and competencies.
